OCEAN

The Oregon Conservation Education and Assistance Network (OCEAN) was formed in 1992 as a membership organization to provide conservation district employees with capacity building, education, and professional development opportunities to solve natural resource conservation issues that districts face throughout the state. OCEAN's strategy is to deliver the most comprehensive professional development program for conservation district employees, providing the skills necessary to be successful in delivering conservation on the ground. Our strategic goals are to:

- be the authority for training and conservation technology delivery,
- build bridges between Districts and others to improve conservation effectiveness,
- have the organizational knowledge to be self-sustaining, and
- enlist members that are actively involved in the organization because of our mission which inspires and enriches.

OCEAN delivers conservation based technical training, professional development, education, assistance, and networking opportunities to 150+ conservation district employees in Oregon. CONNECT is OCEAN's main endeavor and provides attendees with technical training built around the feedback received from the attendees themselves. It provides a depth of training that was previously unavailable to district employees on a statewide scale.

NETWORK of OREGON
WATERSHED COUNCILS

The Oregon Association of Conservation Districts (OACD) is a private, non-profit 501(c)(5) statewide membership organization that represents, supports and strengthens Oregon's 45 Soil and Water Conservation Districts through four main goals:

To promote the conservation and wise use of Oregon's natural resources by providing a vehicle for local Conservation Districts to build capacity and to work together on common statewide challenges and opportunities.

To be a common voice for those committed to the belief that Oregon's soil, water, air and renewable resources must be used in accordance with the needs of the people of the state while maintaining a quality environment and a productive economy.

To cooperate with public and private organizations with similar purposes, forming a coalition that will drive the adoption of statewide policies and programs and result in a quality environment and a productive economy.

To inform the public of the value of conservation including flood prevention, proper land use planning, orderly economic development, recreation development and fish and wildlife enhancement.

OACD offers services to Conservation Districts through member services, program development, public education, and government relations.

NETWORK of OREGON WATERSHED COUNCILS

The Network of Oregon Watershed Councils is a statewide non-profit organization that supports the work of Oregon's community-based watershed councils. Located in the state capital of Salem in the northwest corner of the U.S., the Network serves some 90 councils across the state through training, conferences, and networking events, by providing a voice with agencies and funders, by tracking important issues, and by helping councils learn from each other to increase their efficiency and impact.

Mission

The Network supports the work of Oregon's watershed councils to enhance watershed health and benefit their local communities.

Vision

We envision increasingly strong, resilient watershed councils throughout Oregon sustaining healthy land, water and economies. Oregon watershed councils are the pride of our local communities and a model for our country and the world. By focusing the Network's resources, we help councils be more effective, in order to advance the organizations individually and to further watershed health collectively.

Purpose

The Network of Oregon Watershed Councils is dedicated to supporting the work of watershed councils throughout the state by focusing on:

- Building watershed council capacity through training, information sharing, funding, and internal communications
- Improving key relationships with watershed council partners
- Helping build the social capital, financial capital, human capital, and political capital of watershed councils in Oregon (capacity building)

Our mission is to serve and strengthen the land trust community in Oregon. We do that by building connections and advancing policies that help protect our natural world—our water, wildlife and open space—for all people, forever.

We started as a need on a list crafted by the land trust community and came to life as a nonprofit in 2012. We don't own or steward land. But we advocate for those who do, and for the millions of Oregonians who benefit from conservation work around the state. At COLT, we represent more than 25 organizations and serve as the central voice of the land trust community, working to protect the natural world—through unity and advocacy.

OUR VISION

Community

Relationships with landowners, public agencies, tribal governments, community leaders, small businesses, local organizations and passionate individuals so we can all support healthy and thriving lands.

Diversity

A land trust community that reflects the diversity of Oregon's landscapes and voices.

Service

Access to high-quality, reliable land trust services by every community in Oregon.

Transparency, integrity and accountability

THE KEYNOTE SPEAKER

Tony teaching his youngest son Ferrill how to skipper a Chinook Canoe

TONY A. (naschio) JOHNSON

Tuesday, September 6
6:30 pm - Pacific Room

Tony (naschio) will explore the Chinook Indian Nation's culture, lifeways, and integral connection to its aboriginal lands (which include the site of this year's conference). He will speak to his communities experiences post contact and the fight that he was born into for #chinookjustice. Chinook oral traditions are the universities of the Chinook people and everything a person needs to know about the origins of their place and the way in which human beings are to interact with the land and each other is contained within them. naschio is compelled by a time in the future when all residents of Chinook lands view the place through a (indigenized) Chinook lens.

He will speak about what it will take to get there and provide tips for accessing Native communities as a way to start this important learning.

He also looks forward to Questions and Answers with conference attendees.

Tony A. (naschio) Johnson is a member of the Chinook Indian Nation, a scholar of language and culture, and an artist born in his tribe's traditional territory on Willapa Bay. He attended the University of Washington and Central Washington University and directed the Language Program for the Confederated Tribes of Grand Ronde from its beginnings in 1997 until 2010. He acquired Chinuk Wawa as a second language from his elders.

Johnson was the Education Director for the Shoalwater Bay Indian Tribe on the north shore of Willapa Bay where he lives with his wife and children. He is a father to five, enjoys producing cultural objects from his tradition and is an experienced canoe maker. He has been the Chair of the Nation's Culture Committee for more than 20 years and was elected Chair of the Nation's Tribal Council in 2015.

He is currently the elected Chairman of the Nation as well as being employed full-time as a Program Officer for a large foundation that serves the people of Washington State, its neighboring communities, and beyond.
